Environmental Advisory Council Workshops Funded in Montgomery County

Collegeville, Pennsylvania —Montgomery County Conservation District received a grant in the amount of $1,869.00 to plan and conduct two Non-Point Source Pollution Prevention Workshops for Montgomery County Environmental Advisory Councils (target audience).

The goals of these workshops are to introduce Environmental Advisory Councils in Montgomery County to the Montgomery County Conservation District and its programs; discuss specific ways in which Environmental Advisory Councils can assist/partner with Montgomery County Conservation District and their local municipalities and residents/homeowners to help prevent non-point source pollution; and provide Environmental Advisory Councils and their local elected officials with links to additional informational and funding resources to assist them in implementing non-point source pollution prevention, education and outreach activities,” said Brian Vadino, Watershed Specialist.

The workshops will be held during the following dates and at the following locations:

Monday, Sept. 17 (6:00PM-8:00PM)
Perkiomen Township Building
1 Trappe Road
Collegeville PA 19426
